Vintage Score best drinking

The Flower Garden Sauvignon Blanc

R

2014: seems rather tired, almost oxidised and with bare mineral stone fruits hanging on.	2014 78	2014-2018
2015: mineral and stone fruit, mainly green fruits in a juicy, light style.	2015 85	2015-2022
2019: lime toned, with sliced peaches and fuzzy pear skin, very nice as warm climate version, but lacking citrus bite of its homeland. More citrus evident after 24 hours.	2019 88	2019-2027
2021: pale straw and quite viscous, with gentle lemon stone fruit, a touch of pear drop tropical and a cream note finish. The best yet.	2021 89	2021-2028

The Beekeeper Chenin Blanc

R

2019: pleasant dried honeycombe and orange peel flavours, clean and lively, but at 12.5% rather light and fleeting.	2019 87	2020-2027
--	----------------	------------------

Chardonnay

R

2013: nicely balanced between delicate yet fine fruit and wood structure with enough weight.	2013 84	2013-2022
2015: little obvious oak and softly comforting,	2015 85	2015-2022

with stone fruits and easy enjoyment.

Bees Knees Chenin Blanc/Viognier R

2015: nicely perfumed and pleasant in a middle of the road' style.	2015 84 2015-2022
---	--------------------------

The House Martin Pinot Noir R

2018: nicely fresh and supple, fruity version, boiled cherry sweets with a hint of cooked earth finish, great value.	2018 88 2019-2027
---	--------------------------

2022: hint of dark earth and stewed strawberries with a silky smooth palate, very nice.	2022 90 2022-2029
--	--------------------------

The Red Snapper Cinsault R

2020: fresh cherry fruit nose, nice acid vitality and smooth and pliant berry flavours, generous and satisfying.	2020 89 2020-2027
---	--------------------------

Merlot RR

2014: easy-going and juicy in a soft, mouthwarming style, easily enjoyable.	2014 85 2014-2024
--	--------------------------

Tobacco Street Shiraz RR

2014: pungent nose then juicy, forward fruit and a dark spicy palate.	2014 84 2014-2023
--	--------------------------

The Huntsman SMV RR

2014; savoury and dry, with a tangy bite and hedgerow notes, full and spicy.

2014 84 2014-2024
